OTHER EARLY 'BLACK' BURIALS

CHARLOTTE COUNTY FLORIDA

This document is intended to provide a record of burials for the two "Black" cemeteries in the county. While the purpose of this information is to aid family historians & genealogists in their search, it is also hoped that it will provide others with the information needed to locate the grave of someone they knew, loved or missed. However the user should realize that the data herein is not only incomplete but that it may also be inaccurate. A large number, yes more than one third of the graves have no visible identity markers. Furthermore no official or formal records of burials have been kept. Newspaper articles do provide some information including a list of those believed to be buried in the forgotten Hickory Bluff cemetery. Of course such articles do not designate specific grave sites and this small cemetery, while totally fenced in, has not been used or maintained for several years. On the other hand, grave sites at the Carl Bailey Cemetery are available and the cemetery is currently managed and maintained by the county. Yet today, 110 of the 339 accountable grave sites at this cemetery have no inscription, plaque or monument to identify their occupant.

A compendium of available records and transcriptions

Some information about who might be buried in the "unknown" graves was found in various notes compiled a few years ago by the Charlotte County Genealogical Society. Their primary sources were county probate records and obituaries. Unfortunately such sources rarely if ever indicate the cemetery where the deceased is to be buried. Their data does show that considerable effort was made to resolve who was buried in the unmarked graves at the Carl Bailey Cemetery and it was combined with other material to produce the list of individuals believed to be buried there. These names were also given to members of the former Carl Bailey Cemetery Committee, the funeral home responsible for many of the burials in the cemetery and staff members of the Maintenance and Operations Division, Charlotte County Works Department. Each was asked to help verify that these persons were buried there and if possible, locate their grave site but to date the response has been minimal.

Charlotte County Genealogical Society

As explained above the data presented in this document was primarily derived from four sources, i.e. miscellaneous notes and lists compiled by the genealogical society a few years ago, Charlotte County probate records, Punta Gorda Herald obituaries and a current transcription of the gravestones and markers in this cemetery as of 31 DECEMBER 1993. The nomenclature and special symbols used include:

b. = date of birth

d. = date of death

I = Illegible - damaged/broken

Compiled by

PM = Permanent type Marker

TM = Temporary type Marker

NM = No Grave Marker found

Austin B. & Jeannette P. Youmans

Also a number from 1 to 339 which is assigned to each grave site can be used to correlate the listing with the As-Read listing to facilitate finding the actual location of a grave in this cemetery.

PREFACE

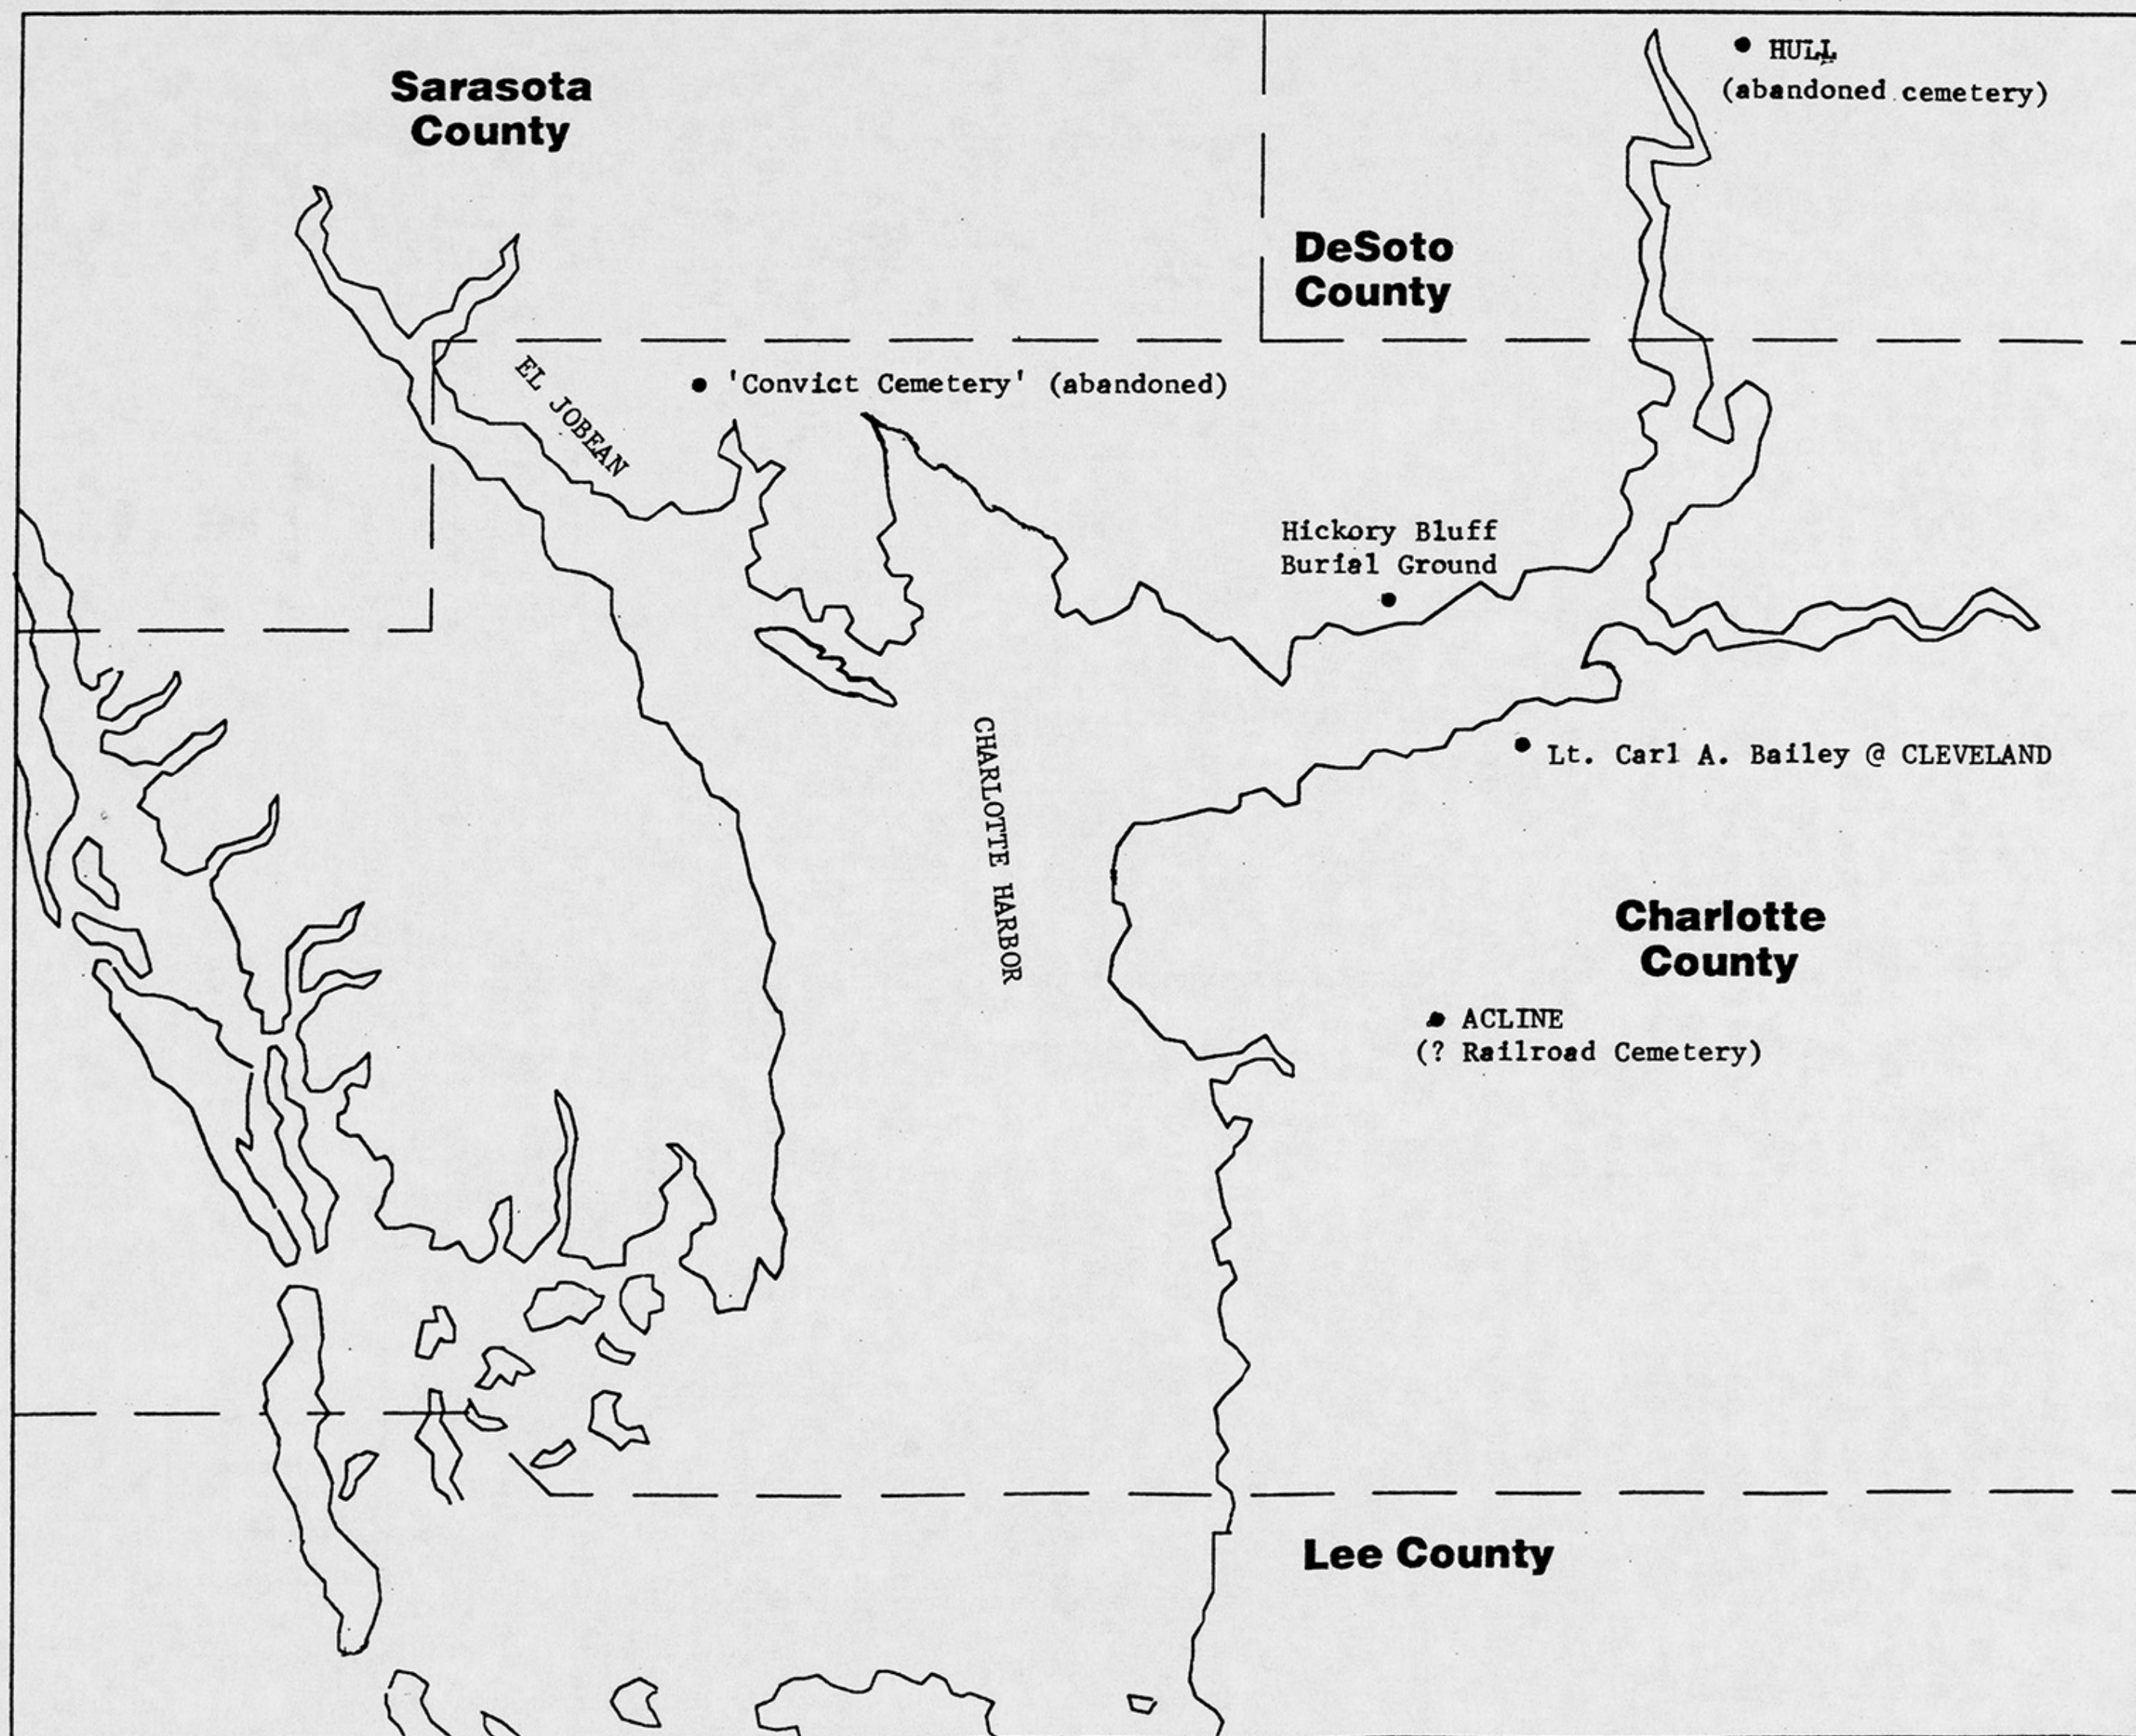

This document attempts to provide a 'Record of Burials' for the two "Black" Cemeteries located in what is now Charlotte County Florida. While the purpose of this information is to aid family historians & genealogists in their search of the past, it is also hoped that it will provide others with the information needed to locate the grave of someone they knew, loved or respected. However the user should realize that the data herein is not only incomplete but that it may also be inaccurate. A large number, yes more than one third of the graves have no visible identity markers. Furthermore no official or formal records of burial have been found - seemingly none were kept. Newspaper articles do provide some information including a list of those believed to be buried in an old and nearly forgotten Hickory Bluff cemetery. Of course such articles do not designate specific grave sites and this small cemetery, while totally fenced in, has not been used or maintained for several years. On the other hand, grave sites at the Carl Bailey Cemetery are available and the cemetery is currently managed and maintained by the county. Yet today, 110 of the 339 accountable grave sites at this cemetery have no enscription, plaque or monument to identify their occupant.

Some information about who might be buried in the 'unknown' graves was found in various notes and lists compiled a few years ago by the Charlotte County Genealogical Society. Their primary sources were county probate records and obituaries. Unfortunately such sources rarely if ever, pinpoint the actual location of the grave and even obituaries do not always name the cemetery where the deceased is to be buried. Their data does show that considerable effort was made to resolve who was buried in the unmarked graves at the Carl Bailey Cemetery and it was combined with other material to produce the list of individuals believed to be buried there. These names were also given to members of the former Carl Bailey Cemetery Committee, the funeral home responsible for many of the burials in the cemetery and staff members of the Maintenance and Operations Division, Charlotte County Works Department. Each was asked to help verify that these persons were buried there and if possible, locate their grave site but to date the response has been minimal.

As explained above the data presented in this document was primarily derived from four sources, ie. miscellaneous notes and lists compiled by the genealogical society a few years ago, Charlotte County probate records, Punta Gorda Herald obituaries and a current transcription of the gravestones and markers in this cemetery as of 31 DECEMBER 1993. The nomenclature and special symbols used include:

b. = date of birth	PM = Permanent type Marker
d. = date of death	TM = Temporary type Marker

Also a number from 1 to 339 which is assigned to each grave site can be used to correlate the Alphabetical listing with the As-Read listing to facilitate finding the actual location of a grave in this cemetery.

Acknowledgments

The Charlotte County Genealogical Society wishes to thank Bernice Russell and Berlin Bailey for their cooperation. Also the data provided by Patricia Whiteaker, Charlotte County Public Works Dept, was helpful in the preparation of this report. Mr. Lindsey Williams & U. S. Cleveland contributed to the background material and the location of the forgotten and abandoned cemeteries.

Cover

The headstone marker on the cover is from a photograph of the marker for Ruth H. Brown, one of nine known pre-Charlotte County era burials at the Cleveland Cemetery which is now called the Lt. Carl A. Bailey Cemetery.

Carl A. Bailey Cemetery

Scott Avenue, Cleveland, Charlotte County, Florida

Few records exist for the early Black burials in the area which is now Charlotte County Florida and today, only two of the early burial sites or cemeteries for Blacks can be located from the data available in this county's records. Both have tax ID numbers and both are now considered to be on county owned property. Only one of these, the Carl Bailey or Cleveland Cemetery as it was originally called, is still active and the earliest identifiable grave there now is that of Joseph Swine who died in 1904. At that time this area was in DeSoto County and grave markers or obituaries were found for eight other burials made in this cemetery before Charlotte County was officially formed on the 23rd day of April 1921. Undoubtedly there were other early burials there too - possibly some even before these eight known graves.

For several years a small area in the southeast corner of this cemetery has been neglected. Part of this is the South 1/2 of Lot 3 of Block 28 which was purchased the 14th of January 1892 by the following trustees of the African M. E. Church - namely, George Brown, Sam Williams and S. Thompson (pastor). Was this land purchased for a cemetery? Whether or not it was cannot be confirmed but the fact remains that many members of this early church and perhaps other Blacks were buried, not on this lot but nearby in the present cemetery area which at that time was owned by W. I. Scott of Oneida County New York. Mr. Scott died and in 1911 his widow sold most of the land he had owned in South Cleveland to Mr. Herbert Scholes of Utica, New York. Two years later, Mr. Scholes sold the North 1/2 of Lot 3 and Lots 1, 2 and 4 to 'The Punta Gorda Colored Investment Company' but no mention was made of its use as a cemetery.

Actually six of the nine aforementioned graves in this cemetery existed before they purchased this land. As previously mentioned, several others were probably buried there too such as George Brown's 1st wife who died in November 1892, the Reverend G.W. Vaughn who died suddenly on November 9th, 1902 and was buried the very next day, Certainly there was a need for this cemetery and perhaps the number of graves which existed at that time prompted the June 1913 purchase of the other parts of Block 28. The deed did name the company's trustees - George Brown, C. B. Commarter, S. A. Giles, Jack Davis, H. Mobley, A. C. Dorsey & John Vandlitt. Later, after Charlotte County was formed, the State assumed ownership of all of Block 28 and on May 16th 1955 resold the South 1/2 of of Lot 3 to the W. P. Cooper Company, Inc. of Sarasota FL. A few months later, ie January 1956, the Cooper Co. sold the property to Mr. J. C. Hagerman and today it is owned by the heirs of his and Charlie Hagerman's estates. In reality most, if not all, of the visible graves in this cemetery are in an area which can be defined by Lots 1, 2, & 4 and one half of lot 3. However one has a problem deciding which half of Lot 3 is really involved. The problem arises because the diagonal, rather than the sides of Lot 3 lies in the N - S direction - this makes a N or S half somewhat meaningless.

In 1957 the cemetery was renamed for Lt. Carl A. Bailey after he died in an auto accident in North Carolina. Carl, his parents, and most of the Bailey family are buried in this cemetery. Later that year, the county purchased additional property but the plans for the new addition were not finalized and approved until March 1974. The addition provided for 1696 new graves and a caretaker's area but as of now no one has been buried in it. Charlotte County Public Works is the cemetery's current caretaker.

The Burial Grounds in Hickory Bluff

Today there is a small fenced-in area on Rowland Street in what was originally Curry's 1886 Addition to Hickory Bluff where 'colored' were buried. Actually this and another small site about 1/4 mile south near the high water mark for Charlotte Harbor are two of the oldest areas designated as cemeteries on official records. While all evidence of the latter has disappeared, the 'Colored Cemetery', as it was then called, still exists and is presently considered as county-owned-property (ref. Charlotte County tax # 78756-000000-2). The 12 May 1886 plat drawn by K. B. Harvey even indicated that some graves existed at that time. The area was then in Manatee Co. FL. An article in the February 24, 1984 Daily Herald - News, a former Charlotte County newspaper, described this cemetery and discussed a part of its history. Its author, staff writer David Flechsig, gave the names of the fourteen individuals believed to be buried there -

George Roberts, Jordan Roberts, James Roberts, Lewis Roberts,
Ester Lowman, George Lowman, Glorene Owens, Centhia Coleman,
Ben Coleman, Victoria Gator, Stephen Gator, George Wetherbee,
Julia Mack and Emesiah Mack

Mr. D. C. Smith of Punta Gorda FL, former caretaker of the cemetery, provided this list to Mr. Flechsig. The article indicates that no official cemetery records were kept but some of the other material in it, especially the part which refers to the sale and ownership of the land is misleading. Actually in July 1891, July Roberts, who lived nearby, purchased this plot (ie. lot 7 of Block 6) from Mary & Hiram Curry. Undoubtedly Mr. Roberts, a black man, knew that it was a cemetery and probably purchased it to preserve its status as such. Records indicate that both July and his wife, Tenia, died in the 1897-1900 era. Perhaps they are buried there too since all of the 'Roberts' listed above were their children. Because no official records were kept for any of the burials in this cemetery, one must wonder as to who was buried there - especially those prior to 1886.

Other Burial Sites

Reference to other burial places can be found in numerous newspaper accounts of the accidental or tragic death of 'Blacks' in Charlotte County. For example, the 27 July 1916 Punta Gorda Herald describes the death of "Clarence Thomas, a young negro who was a member of the railroad local section crew, was killed instantly by lightning ...". Later the article states that he was buried in the railroad cemetery at Acline on Sunday afternoon. Today there is little evidence that there ever was a cemetery there. Another article in December 1926 states that three unnamed negroes drowned in the Myakka River while working on the railroad bridge at El Jobean. This article does not say where they were buried but there is an old cemetery near a canal at the intersection of Black Ave. and Doolittle Lane. This burial site is sometimes referred to as the 'Convict Cemetery' but others, especially single freemen who worked on the railroad or in the local turpentine plant, may have been buried there too. Some writers have suggested other burial sites but little real evidence exists today to support their claims however there is an abandoned cemetery near Hull in DeSoto Co. where some early area 'Blacks' could have been buried.

Area Deaths - Cemetery Unknown

Charlotte County Florida

The names listed below are from data collected several years ago by members of the Charlotte County Genealogical Society in their effort to ascertain who was buried in the unmarked graves in Charlotte County Florida cemeteries. At that time they believed most, if not all, on this list were buried at 'Carl Bailey' but this could not be confirmed either then or now by this organization.

APPENDIX A

Lt. Carl A. Bailey Cemetery

As-Read Listing of Graves

31 December 1993

Lt. Carl A. Bailey Cemetery

As-Read List

The layout of the graves in this cemetery is so random that it makes a drawing or map which shows the location of each grave impractical. The alternative was to provide two lists, one which is 'alphabetical' and the other an 'as-read' listing which follows the paths taken when the graves were transcribed. A total of 339 grave sites were noted and each was numbered sequentially from 001 to 339. This number is also used to correlate the two lists. The paths through the cemetery are identified using an alphabetical notation starting with the capital letters, ie A through Z, followed by the small letters a through h. Each path follows a line starting with a grave nearest Scott Avenue and runs across the cemetery in a direction approximately parallel to Route 17 - actually the lines veer slightly to the left and sometimes will include individual graves which are not on that line. The number of graves in each path is specified - for example line A has 16, line B has 3 and line C has 27 ... and the first grave on a few of the lines is near the middle of the cemetery. Hopefully using these two lists one will be able to find any grave in this cemetery without too much difficulty. Common gravestone.
